Arab Leaders Meet in Syria

Saud Plays Key Role As Iraqi Chief Visits

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Premier Ali Jawdat of Iraq arrived in Damascus today in a dramatic demonstration of all-out efforts by King Saud of Saudi Arabia to patch up Arab world differences.

It is the first visit of any Iraqi premier to Syria since the establishment of the Baghdad Pact, which tended to isolate the Iraqi regime from other Middle East Arab nations.

Iraq, like neighboring Jordan ruled by the Hashemite family has long been feuding with the current Syrian regime.

Premier Jawdat entered Syria from Lebanon by automobile after a trip to Beirut from Istanbul and received an apparently cordial official welcome.

The Saudi Arabian king, who flew in Wednesday, apparently strongly urged Syria to invite Iraq to participate in the talks, which King Saud seems to hope will prevent the Mideast situation from becoming a dangerous crisis.

The wealthy monarch, a friend of the United States, scheduled meetings today with President Shukri Kuwaty and other Syrian leaders.

SYRIA HAS attached great importance to the three-day visit of the king. This was shown by an impressive welcome at Damascus Airport.

Ranking government and military officials headed the cheering airport crowds. Four MIG jet fighters bought from Russia by the Syrian air force swept overhead. The king was handed a big bouquet.

Also on hand to greet Saud was Robert Strong, charge d'affaires at the U.S. Embassy.

It was the first time an American diplomat turned out for a state occasion since U.S.-Syrian relations dropped to a new low with Syrian charges of a plot by the United States against the Kuwaty government.

Saud is on friendly terms with all members of the Arab bloc and also has cooperated with U.S. policy in the Middle East.

Girard Surprises His Own Attorneys with Testimony

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard surprised his own counsel today by denying under oath that he shouted "Get out" to scare away Japanese shell collectors on a U. S. firing range last Jan. 30.

All prosecution witnesses have testified Girard, or a soldier resembling him, shouted "Get out" or "Get out of here" that day when Mrs. Naka Sakai was killed.

The Ottawa, Ill., soldier is accused of luring her closer, then firing a fatal shot from his rifle grenade launcher.

Girard's defense lawyer had intended to use the warning shouts to bolster his contention that Girard was shooting away, not enticing, shell collectors.

Judge Yuzo Kawachi asked Girard whether he said "Get out" or "Get out of here." Girard replied: "No, sir."

"Girard told the truth as he knows it," Maj. Stanley Levin, Girard's army legal adviser, said later.

Ituro Hayashi, Girard's Japanese lawyer, said irritably: "I'm not ordering Girard how to testify. However, I had believed those witnesses who heard 'Get out of here.'"

Girard also said he had not heard his only companion, Specialist 3c Victor Nickel, Inkster, Mich., shout such a warning.

Girard returned to the stand in his manslaughter trial after a 29-year-old illiterate farmer told of seeing an American soldier scatter empty cartridges on the ground then fire twice.

Kuji Sakai, the farmer, did not identify Girard by name, but said the shots were fired by the "smaller, shorter one . . . the light complexioned one."

Girard appears somewhat shorter and is lighter than Nickel,

Portsmouth Crash Victim Reported Critical Here

Florence Horton, 56, Portsmouth, is in critical condition today at Berger Hospital from injuries suffered in an auto-truck collision at Routes 56 and 104 yesterday at 2:15 p. m.

The injured woman was a passenger in an auto driven by Ora Tamme, 65, Portsmouth. Mrs. Tamme is listed in "very poor" condition.

Berger Hospital officials were unable to report the extent of injuries suffered by the two women.

The truck involved was operated by Addison Spangler, 50, Route 2, Portsmouth.

Booby-Trap In Indiana Hurts Coeds

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A Ball State Teachers College senior who couldn't get a date with a coed he admired admitted Wednesday night he made a booby-trapped package that injured her and two other college girls.

State Police Lt. Robert Dillon said David Wayne Carter, 20, New Castle, Ind., admitted rigging the shotgun-breech device and sending it to Ruth Ann Petry, 18.

The package exploded Friday in a building on the college campus at Muncie, Ind., as Miss Petry and two other coeds opened it. Miss Petry and Linda Helverson, 18, were injured only slightly, but Mrs. Mel Reynolds, 20, lost the tips of two fingers and was wounded in the arms and neck.

All three are from Anderson. Carter was questioned at Muncie because of his attempts to date Miss Petry. He confessed here after being brought to state police headquarters for a lie detector test.

Carter told police he cut out the breech section of a shotgun and inserted it against a block of wood so that the gun would fire when the block was moved in opening a box.

He said he left the device in a school locker picked at random. Addressed to Miss Petry, it was found and delivered to her.

Park Avenue Jeweler Robbed of $100,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Two men held up a Park Avenue jewelry store opposite the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel today and fled with jewelry valued at $100,000.

The robbers each brandished .45 caliber guns and tied up three employees of the Mercader, Inc., jewelry store. They took the jewels from two display trays.

Phone Workers Return Today After Walkout

The Circleville plant of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. was operating with full staff today. All operators who failed to report to work yesterday were back at work, according to a company spokesman.

He said the operators started coming back to work at 5:15 p. m. yesterday. Earlier yesterday 14 operators—or half the force—were not at work in protest over actions of the chief operator, Mrs. Lorraine Ballentine, according to the operators.

The company said the walkout was a continuation of a previous dispute, Sept. 6, over the firing of an employee.

2 Election Board Appointees Named

COLUMBUS (AP)—Secretary of State Ted Brown today appointed two persons to county board of election posts.

Miss Mary Jo Romber of Coldwater was named to the Mercer County board as a Democratic member to fill the vacancy created when Arnold Cron resigned. Her term will expire Feb. 28, 1958.

David O. Steiner, a Lima attorney, was appointed by Brown as a Republican member of the Allen County Board of Elections. He fills the unexpired term of the late L. Dale Jennings. Steiner's term will expire Feb. 29, 1960.

Hoffa Is Granted Delay In Senate Rackets Probe

Split in Big Labor Movement Feared

NEW YORK (AP)—Possibilities of the bitterest schism in the ranks of organized labor in more than two decades shaped up today in the wake of a 30-day cleanup ultimatum issued to the giant Teamsters Union by the AFL-CIO.

The Executive Council of the AFL-CIO set the time limit for possible suspension of the nation's largest union at an extraordinary session Wednesday.

The council acted in the face of a warning that James R. Hoffa, a chief target of the AFL-CIO leadership, was sure of election as president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters at its convention next week.

The warning came from John F. English, secretary of the Teamsters, in his capacity as an AFL-CIO vice president and a member of the Executive Council.

English, who cast the lone vote against the cleanup mandate, urged the Executive Council not to make a hasty decision that he said might cut the heart out of the merged labor movement.

WITH THE 1,400,000-member Teamsters Union put on notice to cleanse itself of corruption within 30 days or face possible stiff reprisal, the situation recalled that of 22 years ago when the founding unions of CIO quit the AFL.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council's order to the Teamsters was to eliminate abuses and to remove from elective or appointive office "those who are responsible for these abuses."

Hoffa, powerful vice president of the Teamsters, is in Miami Beach waging his campaign for president as successor to the retiring Dave Beck.

Both top men of the Teamsters spurned invitations from the AFL-CIO leaders to answer corruption charges against them and some other officers of the union.

An ultimatum the same as that issued to the Teamsters was directed at the 138,000-member Bakery and Confectionary Workers International Union by the Executive Council Wednesday.

The Teamsters and Bakery Workers were ordered to report to the Executive Council at a special meeting here Oct. 24 on what steps have been taken to wipe out malpractices and bar corrupt influences.

A similar ultimatum was issued Tuesday to the 40,000-member United Textile Workers of America. This union is distinct from the larger Textile Workers Union of America.

McClellan said his committee had also intended to summon Owen Bert Brennan and Frank Collins, union aides to Hoffa.

Fitzgerald asked for at least a 30-day postponement of any required appearance of Hoffa, Collins or Brennan. He said he would have to advise Brennan, president of Detroit Teamsters Local 337 and Hoffa's sidekick and business partner, to invoke the Fifth Amendment and refuse to answer questions if Brennan were called for questioning today.

Collins is secretary-treasurer of Detroit Teamsters Local No. 299, Hoffa's home local. Committee counsel Robert Kennedy described him as Hoffa's paymaster. He, like Brennan, was waiting to be called for committee testimony.

McClellan said the committee would "weigh this thing very, very

Union Chief's Lawyer Cites Pile of Trouble

Congressional Group To Let Teamster Aide Attend Miami Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee today granted James R. Hoffa's plea to delay further testimony from him until after next week's Teamsters Union convention.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) told Hoffa's lawyer, George Fitzgerald, the committee had intended to call Hoffa here Saturday as a witness.

Fitzgerald protested against a flood of committee, court and AFL-CIO charges breaking around Hoffa "like confetti at a county fair. Everything is happening on the eve of the convention."

The convention starts Monday at Miami Beach, Fla. Hoffa is the leading candidate to be elected Teamsters president as successor to Dave Beck. Beck like Hoffa has been linked to mushrooming Teamsters Union scandals.

The Senate committee has accused Hoffa of misusing thousands of dollars of union funds and wrongful use of his powers.

AND AN AFL-CIO committee has charged Hoffa with associations with hoodlums and has indicated the teamsters will be ousted from the federation if Hoffa assumed the union leadership.

McClellan said his committee had also intended to summon Owen Bert Brennan and Frank Collins, union aides to Hoffa.

Fitzgerald asked for at least a 30-day postponement of any required appearance of Hoffa, Collins or Brennan. Ike's Action Questioned

TOLEDO (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler says the sending of troops into Little Rock, Ark., could have been avoided if President Eisenhower had not "temporized" earlier with the integration problem there.

Ike, Dixie Chiefs To Talk Tuesday

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower has arranged a conference for next Tuesday with a committee of Southern governors seeking withdrawal of federal troops enforcing school integration at Little Rock, Ark.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced the President will fly back to Washington for the Tuesday meeting with five Southern governors. They requested a conference in a message Wednesday.

Eisenhower today sent this telegram to Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida:

"I will be pleased to meet at the White House in Washington with the committee of the Southern Governors Conference on Tuesday, Oct. 1 at 2:30 p. m.

(EDT) to discuss problems of school integration."

Collins is chairman of the conference. The governors had asked Eisenhower for an opportunity to discuss specifically the situation at Little Rock where federal troops have been ordered by the President to enforce a federal court school integration edict.

In his telegram, the President spoke more broadly of school integration problems generally.

ASKED WHETHER that means Eisenhower wants to broaden the scope of the Tuesday session beyond the Little Rock situation, Hagerty replied without elaboration:

"I would say 'yes.'"

The President's vacation headquarters said late Wednesday he readily agreed when the governors requested a meeting. They did so in an 11-1 vote at the Southern Governors Conference at Sea Island, Ga.

But while Eisenhower is ready to confer and hopeful that the session will contribute to solution of integration troubles, there is no indication whatever that he will agree to removal of troops from Little Rock until he is convinced the danger of mob violence has subsided.

The President ordered the troops into Little Rock's Central High School area Tuesday after deciding that his cease-and-desist edict to rioters against integration had not been obeyed.

Nine Negro pupils were escorted to and from classes Wednesday by bayonet-carrying soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division. At the Newport White House, press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower "thought it was good" that the children went to classes.

And the President was pleased, Hagerty reported, that there had been no fresh outbreak of violence of the kind that occurred in Little Rock Monday.

The Southern Governors' Conference adopted a resolution saying: "The situation in Little Rock is a matter of grave concern. It is imperative that a constructive solution be found."

"A committee of this conference appointed by its chairman, should request a conference or conferences with the President and the governor of Arkansas, separately or jointly, seeking the withdrawal of federal troops from Arkansas at the earliest possible moment."

One white girl who stayed away from school Wednesday said her mother made her return, against her will, to classes today.

"Some of us are going to get far behind if we stay away much longer," she said.

AS STUDENTS streamed in, a school spokesman said "it looks like this will be our most normal day this week."

Newsman ran toward the middle of the block to meet the Negro students providing the only flurry at the school. The soldiers with fixed bayonets remained calmly at parade rest—a relaxed position in formation.

As the second day of integration at the school began under the eyes of federal troops, Arkansas waited to see what Gov. Orval Faubus might do about the use of what he termed "naked force."

The embattled governor, whose Arkansas National Guard was taken into federal service by President Eisenhower Tuesday, will make a nationwide speech on ABC Radio-TV tonight at 9 EST.

Long Phone Strike Hinted

Ohio Union Chieftains Rap International

CLEVELAND (AP) — Officers of Communications Workers union local representing 18,500 striking Ohio Bell Telephone Co. employees have been told to prepare for a long, hard strike. The walkout is now in its second week.

Part of the reason for this pessimistic view is the fault of the international union which Wednesday drew the condemnation from Ohio's local union officers.

Officers from 45 Ohio cities condemned their parent union "for permitting the Western Electric installers to settle their strike for approximately the same contract that could have been received without a strike."

The statement, issued as the officers met to hear a report on contract negotiations, said that because of the international union's action of tying the Ohio and Western Electric negotiations together, the rug had been pulled from under the union bargaining committee in present negotiations with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

THE CWA CALLED Western Electric installers and Ohio Bell operators and plant craftsmen out on strike 10 days ago. Negotiators announced agreement with Western Electric last week, but the Ohio Bell negotiators still are deadlocked. The Western Electric settlement has not been approved by the entire union membership.

The 165-member Akron-Canton-Youngstown unit of the Western Electric installers, CWA local 5790, voted 51-7 to reject the offer. Union officials said today in Akron dissatisfaction with the wage settlement and transfer allowances for temporary shifts to other communities prompted the rejection, a union spokesman said.

Martin J. Hughes, Ohio director for the CWA, told the local officers to be prepared for a long strike against Ohio Bell. He said there was little hope in the near future for any substantial improvement in the company's offer.

Ashville Ready For Friday Test At McArthur

Ashville High's Bronco gridders travel to McArthur Friday night for their second game of the season. Kick off time is 8 p. m.

After dropping their first game of the season to Mt. Sterling, 13-7, the Broncos are expected to go all out to break into the win column. According to Coach Russ Gregg his squad appears ready for the Friday night encounter.

McArthur, paced by the hard-running of halfbacks Sam Meeks and Larry Neal, probably will prove to be tough customers. The opponents reportedly rely on a split-T offense, making good use of option plays.

Coach Gregg said one of his biggest problems to date is pass defense. Both of Mt. Sterling's touchdowns came on pass plays two weeks ago.

Mother of 10 Rescues Tot From Cistern

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Mildred Stover, 31-year-old mother of 10 children, and soon expecting her 11th, stood in four feet of water at the bottom of a cistern Wednesday and for 30 minutes squeezed her unconscious three-year-old son Jeffrey, "to keep the water from his lungs" until help arrived.

The boy had fallen into the 11-foot deep cistern after prying loose its concrete cover.

Adding to the drama enacted on the side porch of Mrs. Stover's modestly situated home was the fact that help came only after Mrs. Hazel Bates, 32, residing at the same address—and suffering from a broken back—arose from bed in response to Mrs. Stover's frantic calls, to throw her a rope, then call police. She had been told, Mrs. Bates said, that she might never walk again if she left the bed.

Mrs. Stover said she "heard the cistern tot scrape along the floor of the porch, then heard Jeffrey scream. I looked in the cistern . . . couldn't see anything . . . it was dark. I jumped in, felt around in the water and grabbed him. He wasn't even moving. He was unconscious. I shouted 'Hazel! Hazel! Get the rope ladder! Hazel, help! Pull me out!'

"It was God's will that the rope was there on the porch," Mrs. Bates related. "I knew I couldn't pull them up, so I threw down the rope and told Mildred to hold on while I phoned police."

Mrs. Bates suffered her back fracture eight weeks ago when she fell from a tree while trying to adjust a rope swing.

Louisiana Draft Board Men Quit

OAK GROVE, La. (AP) — The five members of the West Carroll Parish (county) draft board resigned in protest of using federal troops in the Little Rock integration dispute.

The board issued this statement Wednesday to Brig. Gen. Raymond Hufft, state adjutant general and head of state selective service system:

"We will not lend our support or time to be instrumental in any way in calling into the service any of the young men of our community for such a purpose. We cannot help but wonder if the people of Hungary, in protesting rulings made arbitrarily by a commissar, were not also branded by leaders of the Soviet Union with the Russian equivalent of the word 'mob' and thereupon subdued by the Russian equivalent of federal troops."

Fitzgerald said Hoffa and Brennan are jointly indicted, with professional New York wire tapper Bernard Spindel, on wire tap conspiracy charges in New York. This is to go to trial Oct. 15.

Fitzgerald said Hoffa and Collins were indicted again Wednesday on charges of perjury in respect to testimony they gave to the grand jury investigating the wire tap case. The Teamsters attorney cautioned against the committee trying to question all three before these charges are aired.

Fitzgerald said he was "generally apprehensive as a lawyer" that Brennan also may be indicted for perjury in connection with testimony he gave the New York grand jury on the wire tap case.

Little Rock Cop Quits in Racial Dispute

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — "I've got a lot of friends here and I don't want to lose them," Tommy Dunaway said shortly after he yanked off his policeman's badge.

In a dramatic moment at Central High School, where city police manned barricades to hold back crowds protesting school integration, the 27-year-old rookie cop pulled off his badge and announced, "I'm through."

He stalked away from the street where officers, swinging billy clubs, sought to quell the mob that became frenzied when nine Negro students entered the high school.

The crowd of about 1,000 white persons cheered as Dunaway left to remove his blue uniform and end his career as a law officer.

"I'm a Southerner," he said, in an effort to explain his impulsive action Monday. "It's not that I'm against integration so much. If it can be worked out peacefully I imagine Southern people would go along with it . . . without its being forced down their throats."

South Texas Hit Again by Heavy Rainfall

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Drenching rains swept soggy south Texas again Wednesday and rising rivers and streams chased an estimated 300 from their homes in San Antonio.

More rains were expected today. Downpours of up to 9 inches boosted the totals to as much as 15 inches since Sunday.

The San Antonio River and tributaries swelled out of their banks here and swirled into streets and homes. Dozens of other creeks and streams in south Texas pushed across lowlands, threatened livestock, closed roads, stranded motorists and kept pupils from schools.

The Freyburg community had 9 inches for a 15-inch total since Sunday. San Antonio had an official 2.07 inches with up to 5 inches in some parts of the city. The official total since Sunday was 8 1/2 inches.

Civil defense workers and firemen rescued 120 persons, some stranded on roof tops, at the height of the flood. Many were removed by motorboats.

East Central High School closed because school buses were unable to operate.

U. S. 181 and several farm roads were closed for a time near Floresville, 30 miles south of here, after a 6-inch downpour.

Schools Ban 'Huck Finn'

The New York City Board of Education has dropped Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" from the approved textbook list for the city's schools. The book's publisher says the book was dropped because of passages considered "racially offensive."

Tampering with classics of literature and music is disturbing. It is reported that recently some of the lyrics of Stephen Foster's songs have been altered for radio to make them non-offensive to Negro militants.

This smacks of the kind of "rewriting of history" that "Big Brother" did in George Orwell's "1984." The object was to change all written records of the past to coincide with the latest official line of the government.

"Huck Finn" is a wonderful story. It will be a wonderful story whether the New York City school board lets pupils study it or not. But the youngsters who miss it will be missing a part of America's heritage.

Municipal Taxes Inevitable?

New Mexico's cities, straining against a constitutional limitation of 20 mills property tax, are succumbing to the city sales tax in a big way. The cities are adding 1 per cent to the 2 per cent state sales tax.

In Illinois 15 more towns have voted a sales tax of 1/2 per cent in addition to the 2 1/2 per cent state tax. A total of 100 cities of over 25,000 population in nine states now impose sales taxes.

This reflects the national trend of population from rural to urban. As more residents crowd in upon the cities, they are discovering that reliance on the property tax as the chief source of municipal revenue is inadequate. Supplemental taxation is taking the form of a municipal income tax or increased license fees in many cities.

Taxation is in competition with the higher cost of living for the citizen's income. Everyone would like to see living costs stabilized and taxation reduced. But higher, instead of lower, municipal taxes seem inevitable.

Propaganda Better than Bomb

By George Sokolsky

The London Disarmament Conference, to which Harold Stassen was sent, has failed. That was inevitable. It would be wiser not to hold conferences which are bound to fail. The United Nations Disarmament Committee has been meeting since 1954 and has held 157 sessions. Since March 18, 1957, it has met 81 times. What has come of it? Nothing.

The point of it all was clearly set forth in Henry L. Roberts' remarkable book, "Russia and America," in which he says:

"While the American stockpile of bombs is estimated to be considerably larger, the ingredients for the creation of the thermonuclear bomb, triggered by an atom bomb, appear to be relatively inexpensive. Both the United States and the Soviet Union are probably capable of delivering on target several hundred atomic bombs by piloted aircraft; within a relatively short time they could probably deliver an even greater number of both atomic and thermonuclear bombs. The number of aircraft capable of two-way missions (with or without air refueling) is currently greater in the United States, even though the Soviet development and production of intercontinental heavy jet bombers has been considerably more rapid than anticipated."

Soviet Russia's advantage can come, not from disarmament but from neutralizing American bases outside of the United States. If Soviet Russia can succeed in neutralizing the entire Arab world from the border of Iran to the Atlantic Ocean, it can reduce the value of our bases in Saudi Arabia and in North Africa. If, by propagandistic endeavors, it can stimulate ill-will between the United States and Great Britain, it could happen, under a Labour government, that we might lose our bases in Great Britain.

Some of this danger, of which all responsible persons must be aware, can be offset by technological improvements, particularly in the development of missiles, but it must be recognized that in such an arms competition as now engages all the world, no industrial power, with ready access to raw materials, is long far behind in technology.

Roberts, in his study, makes the same point as I do. He says: "... Moreover, American overseas bases are much closer to the major Soviet targets than Soviet bases are to the United States. With the completion of the American early warning network, this advantage in overseas bases could make it possible, even if the Soviets initiated an attack, for American planes to reach major Soviet targets before Soviet planes could reach American targets. The advantage, of course, rests on the very important condition that the United States enjoys the right to use these bases which are not on American soil."

What this discussion comes down to is that it is not to the advantage of Soviet Russia to agree to any form of disarmament at the present time. The advantage goes to the United States. Therefore, it is not to be expected that Soviet Russia will agree to anything. The question might be asked, why do the Russians press for conferences and use up valuable time attending them?

The answer is that the Russians have discovered that they are very good at international propaganda and that the United States does not begin to understand this particular art. American skill is in advertising commodities which we do better than anybody. We have learned how to sell the needed, unneeded and the unwanted.

But we have no skill in transmitting ideas. We even permit the Russians, through their Communist parties, to steal our ideas, to twist them, to confuse us. For instance, take the word, democracy, which we thought was ours, but they have made it theirs, although they do not believe in this idea or practice it. We have the least class-conscious social system in all the world; the Russians have a class system which is almost as rigid as the Indian caste system. Yet, in most countries of Europe, Asia and Africa the people believe that Russia is a classless society while ours is a stratified society.

The Russians are particularly skillful in handling the lie which to them becomes the truth because they say it. These propaganda efforts have the efficacy of battles in a fighting war because what they accomplish is to move the position of nations and create new fields of attack. For instance, the subjugation of Syria is a major Soviet victory, as great as our success in the Battle of the Bulge.

"We must be getting near..."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TO BALLYHOO a college movie with a Yale background, a press agent hired a man to lead a bulldog around sedate New Haven with a blue sweater and a big "Y" on it, plus a "Y" pipe in its mouth. Many students hooted the stunt and comparatively few attended the movie. So the press agent got sacked. He didn't give up easily. "I still think it was a great idea," he insisted. "But you know what went wrong? You gave me the ugliest bulldog I ever saw!"

David Selznick, picture producer, is the most prolific writer of inter-office communications in the history of Hollywood. One of his aides gave him some incorrect data when "A Farewell to Arms" was about to go into production, discovered his error too late to stop the report. He held his throbbing head for a moment, then wrote his boss another note. "Dear Mr. Selznick," it began. "In answer to your 14-page memo of tomorrow..."

Husband's Brains Weigh Most

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That the average American husband has five ounces more brains than his wife. And if he'll just let her use them, he'll do all right for himself.

That a baby kangaroo is only an inch long at birth.

That comedian George De Witt overheard a child tell a friend, "I don't do as mummy tells me; but daddy does!"

That an ant is more intelligent than a whale. The whale, big as he is, would never get harpooned if he didn't spout off in public.

That there's a town in Iowa named What Cheer.

That the highest wind velocity clocked by the U. S. Weather Bureau in a hurricane was 186 miles an hour.

That it was H. G. Wells who warned, "The future of humanity depends on the outcome of the race between education and catastrophe."

That a newly seeded lawn in Woodmere, Long Island, had this sign: "Don't ruin these gay blades."

That you spend one year of your life on the phone.

That Japan is the best country

That the total value of all homes in the United States is estimated at $250 billion, or 2 1/2 times the assets of the nation's largest corporations. That a flea is so strong that, if it were as large as a man, it could drag two elephants around a football field. That newscaster John Wingate suggests this as the official sub-

That, by papal decree, the Archangel St. Michael is the patron saint of policemen and law enforcement officers.

That women are named as beneficiaries in 75 per cent of all life insurance policies in America.

That it was Robert Louis Stevenson who said, "You cannot run away from a weakness. You must some time fight it out or perish; and if that be so, why not now, and where you stand?"

See where still another contest has been decided by contours. This, however, was no beauty pageant—it was the world plowing contest held at Peeples, O.

Waterless Soap Workers' Boon

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Personal cleanliness doesn't have to be forgotten by telephone linemen, construction men and others who must work outside away from sanitary facilities.

No longer do these field workers have to grab sandwiches from their lunch boxes with grimy dirty or oil-stained hands. Waterless hand cleaners now permit a good cleanup job right at the work site.

These waterless cleaners remove dirt and oil as well as soap and water. In some cases they do a job that's even more effective. They are available in plastic squeeze tubes and are rubbed into the hands until they become liquefied. They are then immediately wiped off with a cloth, towel or absorbent paper.

It's just about the same as washing your hands at home. While these cleaners are perfectly all right for most persons, some few, of course, will show allergic reactions to the compounds. In most cases, though, the waterless cleaners actually will help prevent skin allergies from poison ivy, poison oak and irritating soils and oils.

Polyhydric phenols are the active ingredients in these plant poisons. Using mild oxidizing agents, such as are found in the waterless cleaners, helps render such ingredients ineffective.

Immediate action, of course, is quite necessary to wash away all of the poisonous substances.

This is possible only if you have something with which you can clean your hands. If no water is available, there's not much you can do, unless you have something like waterless cleaners along with you.

More and more utilities, and other firms which send men out into the fields, are adding waterless cleaners as part of the truck crew's equipment.

From the standpoint of health and safety, it seems like a pretty good idea to me.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My mother, 70, is an alcoholic who has been drinking for 30 years, and today is living on alcohol. She is alone in an old house since dad's death some years ago, and is going downhill rapidly.

The house has become a filthy hovel; she won't answer the door or telephone, and has no friends. Relatives have stopped trying to help.

I live a thousand miles away, having deliberately put this distance between us, 20 years ago, to shield my family from the heartache I suffered as a child. To this day my children don't know that my mother is an alcoholic.

Over the years I've taken many trips, and much time off from business, to try to help her. And, although my wife never complains, I feel sure she resents the money spent thus, uselessly.

Although I won't ask mother to live with us, I have asked her to take a small apartment nearby, so that I may watch over her. But she refuses and won't live with her sister either.

I've investigated the handling of alcoholics in this (her) jurisdiction. And I am told that the only procedure in a case of the kind is that she be committed to the county hospital as an alcoholic, and then examined by three doctors who present their findings to a judge. If she is found to be mentally deranged, she is then committed to a state custodial hospital; or released, if found sane.

I doubt that a mental hospital is any solution of alcoholism and have refused to take this action. The problem has me completely baffled; it has been a terrible thing in all our lives—but hers, most of all. Any counsel you can give me will be greatly appreciated.

L. M.

DEAR L.M.: In your letter, here condensed, you review your efforts to find help for your mother. You've read many books and articles on alcoholism; you've attended AA meetings; have enlisted the aid of the parish priest to call on your mother; and have had her in rest homes, all to no avail.

She refuses to join AA. The priest has stopped calling. Even the family doctor no longer stops by, as he used to. And as soon as she emerges from a rest home, she turns to a drink again.

So what next? Well, it is axiomatic that what can't be cured must be endured. Also there is a hard saying: desperate diseases require desperate remedies. So take your choice of these alternatives, as a guide to action.

Understandably, it is a painful step—requiring great courage and firmness of character—to set procedures in motion that might commit a demoralized parent to a custodial hospital. But sometimes it is the only truly responsible course open to those who wish to save the patient from total wreckage.

However, alcoholics aren't mentally ill, as a rule. They are sick in a different way—a way that eludes diagnosis. Unless, it may be, that Dr. E. M. Abrahamson and A. W. Pezet's book "Body, Mind & Sugar" (Holt) is on the right track—in remarking a connection between blood sugar starvation and compulsive drinking. Likely there is a chemical or glandular disorder at the root of alcoholic addiction, plus weakness of character that buckles under special stress.

A stronger character, taxed by the same physical defect, tends to give it a battle, by searching indefatigably for recovery. And it is the valiant people who land eventually in AA, whereas the fundamentally less able sort succumb to their handicap and even cling to it. Your mother may represent this latter category.

In addition to being alcoholic, your mother probably is senile also nowadays—since inveterately immature characters tend to regress markedly with age. Thus she might feel intolerably offended, and might react with illogical venom, if only transiently, to a custodial situation. She might reckon you her enemy thereafter.

Are you prepared to bear that effort in relationship? In a devoted effort to try to help her? If so, take her case to the county courts, a procedure probably preferable to letting things drift.

Ohio Valley's Future To Be Aired at Parley

CINCINNATI (AP)—The future development of the Ohio Valley will be discussed here Oct. 3 and 4 by industrial executives and military and political leaders at the 62nd annual meeting of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn.

Navigation and waterway improvement will be discussed at the meeting on Oct. 3 by Brig. Gen. John L. Person, assistant chief of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. At the banquet that night, Dewey Short, assistant Secretary of the Army, will speak on redevelopment of the Ohio River.

Newest Hollywood Romance: Natalie Wood--Bob Wagner

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hollywood's No. 1 romance of the moment concerns the 1957 version of flaming youth, Natalie Wood and young Robert Wagner.

It's enough to make a fan magazine editor coo with delight. Here is Natalie, who is to the present generation what Joan Crawford and Lana Turner were to previous ones. Add Bob, longtime darling of the younger set, and you've got an ideal setup for reams of copy.

When Natalie had to go to the Adirondacks for locations of "Marjorie Morningstar," Bob was there. He came home with her on the train, arrived here at 9 a.m. visited her on the set at 1 a.m. He is present on the set every day.

Love? Natalie coyly declines comment. She does admit that she and Bob are going steady, but says they have made no plans for the future. As she learned with Elvis Presley, it is difficult to carry on a romance in public.

"There never was anything between Elvis and me," she said. "How could there be? We never had enough time alone."

"My biggest mistake was going to visit him at his home in Memphis. I didn't realize people would make such a circus out of it. I'm not saying I wouldn't do it again. I probably would. But I wouldn't let anyone know about it."

Instead of riding Presley's motorcycle, she is now sailing on Wagner's yacht.

"Whenever I get time off, we go out on his motor cruiser," she said. "I'm getting pretty good as a crew member, too. We go out for a spin in the ocean and try fishing, but the only thing we've ever caught is a couple of mackerel."

She said they first met when both were under contract to 20th Century-Fox. But they didn't exactly have romance in mind then. She was a child actress of 9. He was a teen-aged actor.

From Dayton, Ohio in 1910 the first air freight, a bolt of cloth, was carried and delivered to a Columbus department store.

Masons To Hold Father-Son Banquet, Sat.

A. W. Short, Division of Wild Life, State of Ohio will be the speaker Saturday at the Father-Son Banquet to be held at 7 p. m. at the Masonic Temple.

Walden E. Reichelderfer, worshipful master, Pickaway Lodge, No. 23 has announced that a movie "Catching Fish in Ohio" in color will be another feature of the program.

Short has an excellent Agricultural and Educational background in dealing with natural resources. Farm reared, he taught vocational agriculture twelve years, has his Bachelor of Science, and Master of Science degrees from the University of West Virginia and Ohio State College of Agriculture.

He served as Chief of Game Management and Propagation, April, 1937 to October, 1946. He was Chief of Law Enforcement for the Division of Conservation one year, and was Chief of Wildlife Conservation Extension Service for 5 years, and Supervisor of Conservation Education for 5 years. He is very successful with adult and youth groups in Conservation Education as it relates to Forestry, Soil, Water, Wildlife, minerals and recreation.

Armed Forces Hostess Assn. Is Big Help to GI Families

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Armed Forces Hostess Assn., friend in need to thousands of service families the world over, tries to answer queries on a multitude of subjects.

"We try to help anyone wanting any information any place where military personnel are stationed," explains Mrs. John A. Peters, wife of an Army lieutenant colonel and president of the association of volunteer officers' wives which has its headquarters and information clearing house at the Pentagon.

The store of information on housing, transportation, schools, recreation, baby-sitters and other subjects is obtained from the president of officers' wives' clubs on posts around the globe.

"They know what women want," observes Lylas Peters, "the many varied problems that plague the poor service wife who must pack up and move her family when her husband is transferred from post to post every three or four years. When they get stuck, we're the ones to help."

Mrs. Peters says that as of January, 1957, there were some 2,913,144 dependents of armed forces personnel stationed within the continental limits of the United States and abroad.

When writing for information, either to the Pentagon offices of the association or to a local post, a self-addressed, stamped envelope must be enclosed and certain details must be supplied the hostesses. First, a correspondent must give her husband's service rank.

Second, if there are children, ages and type of school they wish to enroll them in, public, private or parochial. Third, exactly where her husband is stationed.

Formed in Washington in 1949 by a small group of women under the direction of Mrs. F. P. Campbell, wife of an Army colonel, the organization of volunteer answer-ladies and problem-solvers has boomed to 1,000 clubs.

Some 60 of these are operating in this area alone. In the Pentagon a staff of 40 volunteers rotates in manning the office, each serving at least two full days each month. One of the main functions of the association is to extend a personal welcome to newly appointed officers and their families in the community and to supply assistance to all service personnel in their new surroundings.

On entering this area the service wife is contacted by one of the neighborhood hostesses who tries to help her and her family become a part of, rather than an addition, to the community.

Small Hats Are In Vogue Now

By SUSAN BARDEN

In a wind-swept mood, Beatrice Martin, one of our most talented milliners, has designed an enchanting collection for the fall and winter season. Once again her styles will have great appeal for women who know the elegant importance of the small hat, a favorite which appears in many versions, including the cloche, beret and pillbox.

Color is emphasized, particularly the tone-on-tone look. So, too, are decorative trimmings—novelty pins, perky bows, embroidery, veils—all strategically placed.

Completely new on the fashion horizon is the position of the hat.

Mrs. Croman, Miss McCoy Entertain GOP Women, Mon.

The Pickaway County Women's Republican Club held their first meeting of the season with a 12:30 casserole luncheon at the country home of Mrs. Sterley Croman and Miss Betty McCoy, Monday. Hostesses were Mrs. O. J. Towers, Mrs. L. E. Foreman, Mrs. E. P. Heiskell and Mrs. B. T. Hedges.

Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, president, conducted the meeting. Reports were given, letters read and arrangements made for delegates and alternates to attend the annual Ohio Fall Conference and Banquet at the Neil House on Oct. 10.

A few changes were made in final plans for Sept. 30, when as guests of Judge Wilbur L. Shull, a group will visit Traffic Court, Criminal Court, City Prison and the State School. The time to assemble is 8:45 a. m. in the main entrance of City Prison, West Gay St. and Marconi, across from the new Federal Post Office Building. At 12:30 luncheon will be served in the Cafeteria of the State School, located on the South Side of Broad Street.

Those desiring to go must notify Mrs. Caldwell by Sept. 27.

PILLBOX HAT — This oval shaped hat is trimmed with leaves and beads and has a chic forehead bow.

This year it is to be worn straight, hugging the head to conform with the sleek look of the new fall lines. It's the gentle tilt or shape of a brim, the draping or height of a crown, that gives the asymmetrical effect.

A good choice for afternoon-to-dinner occasions is a pillbox with a velvet bow right in the middle of the forehead and a fascinating face veil.

The lustrous, brief bonnet in satin is perfect for daytime or the cocktail hour.

By ED CREEGH
For James Marlow
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — What, if anything, is going to blow up in the Middle East?

It is easy to spot symptoms of trouble. It is less easy to be sure of your diagnosis.

Syria cancels officers' leaves. Jordan reinforces its patrols on the Syrian border. Israel fears new armed pressure from its Arab neighbors. Turkey wonders uneasily if it's being caught in a Communist nutcracker.

These are only a few of the symptoms. They all tie in with the contest between the United States and the Soviet Union for top position in what President Eisenhower has called the most "strategically important area in the world."

This country was there first, more or less taking over from the British when they had to reduce their overseas commitments. Later the Russians have been moving in. They make no secret of their intention to stay in.

First Egypt veered toward the Red magnet. Later Syria and relatively unimportant Yemen moved in that direction. Syria is the most obvious potential source of future trouble. It has been granted a big, low-interest Russian loan. It is being supplied with Soviet arms. Its army has been taken over by supposedly pro-Western elements.

To illustrate the temper of the region: Egypt and Syria for months have poured scathing propaganda against none-too-stable, pro-Western Jordan. Jordan finally, in the past few days, has started hitting back. It has accused Syria of inciting the Jordan people to revolt.

It is possible for an onlooker to hear the rattle of gunfire right over the horizon. And he would get small reassurance from either Washington or Moscow. Secretary of State Dulles tells the Russians they are up to "risky business."

Depot Planning Layoff

COLUMBUS — A total of 151 civilian workers at the Columbus General Depot will be laid off Nov. 9, because of lack of funds.

in the Middle East. Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko accuses the West of turning the region into "a permanent hotbed of military conflicts."

Some calming voices have been heard. One, rather oddly, in the White House lobby. A burnoosed visitor to President Eisenhower this week, Crown Prince Faisal of Saudi Arabia, said in effect that there's really nothing to get excited about.

"There is no danger," said the prince, who is his country's prime minister and foreign minister. "There is no Arab country which will endanger the security of any other Arab country."

This attitude—whether justified by the facts or no—helps explain why the Arab world in general viewed with disfavor this country's well-publicized shipment of arms to Jordan after the Syrian army shakeup. The attitude seems to be: thanks, but we really can manage our own affairs.

Maybe so. But even in this era of rampant Arab nationalism affairs aren't always in the hands of the Arabs, particularly when they get cozy with the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Homer Hartsough and Miss Celesta Hoy visited Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Vic Pontious and children of Amanda.

The Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ray Poling.

Mrs. Maynard Poling was in charge of the meeting. It was decided to have the meetings every second Thursday of the month. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Maynard Polings.

Refreshments were served to following, Mrs. George Reid, Mrs. Lena Hoy, Mrs. Earl DeLong, Mrs. Nora Reid, Mrs. Hugh Poling, Mrs. Burnell Karshner, Mrs. How-

The Laurel Sunday School Class met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Alice Morris with Mrs. George Swepston assisting.

It was decided for the class to buy a window for the church. Contests won by Mrs. Frank Cox, Mrs. Arthur Hinton and Miss Violet Armstrong.

After the meeting we were served refreshments at Edward Restaurant. Those present were: Mrs. Ray Poling, Miss Leoca Hoy and Mrs. Jack White.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Boecher and Mr. and Mrs. Tiffin McNeal were Saturday visitors in Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whisler and sons were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Huffines of Gibsonville.

The Past Chief Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Hugh Poling with Mrs. George Swepston assisting.

The President Mrs. Ed Fetherolf opened the meeting with some poetry. Contests were won by Mrs. Forest Wolf, Mrs. Fetherolf and Mrs. Merwin McClelland.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Raymond Hedges, Mrs. Charles Pritchard, Mrs. Gerald Rose, Mrs. Irvin Kohler, Mrs. Dwight Eveland, Miss Anna Bowers, Mrs. Winfred Dumm, Mrs. Edith Armstrong, Mrs. Clyde Boecher, Mrs. Robert West and 2 guests Mrs. Jean Shupe and Mrs. Jim Weaver.

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio — A major court test to determine whether bingo, when played for charitable purposes, is gambling, was in the making here Wednesday.

Police, led by Chief Joseph Blackmore, raided a bingo game Tuesday night at the Knights of Columbus hall and arrested two men on charges of gambling.

Municipal Court Judge J. T. Lamb Wednesday continued a hearing for them until Oct. 9, meanwhile, Maxwell Finkleman, attorney for the men, said he would ask for a declaratory judgement to define the state's gambling laws as not applying to bingo when it is played for charitable purposes.

He said the case would be carried to the state Supreme Court if necessary.

Finkleman said the game Tuesday night was sponsored by the K. of C. for charitable purposes and there was to be no profit for the lodge.

All bingo has been banned here by City Manager Charles Thompson since June.

Attorneys said the Montgomery County Common Pleas Court ruled recently that bingo for charity was not gambling but Thompson said there have been other contrary decisions.

Civilian Schools Shunned by Navy

WASHINGTON — The Navy has released a study, kept secret for almost two years, recommending that the Navy assign its primary pilot training program to civilian flying schools, as the Air Force has done.

With the document the Navy issued a lengthy analysis contradicting the survey and declaring that "civilianizing a part of its flight

Here's Latest For Veterans

Service Officer Issues Information

(Veterans who have a question of interest to ex-servicemen should pass it along to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, Jim Shea. His offices are in the basement of the Court House in Circleville.)

Q—I have made a home loan under the G I Bill. Can I now make a business loan?

A—If you have not used up your full guarantee, it is possible to secure a business loan — provided you can find a lending agency which will go along with you.

Q—I plan to attend school under the G I Bill. I will go at night, and will attend three nights each week. This is considered by the school as one-half time. How much subsistence will I get from the Government?

A—A veteran enrolled in a one-half time course will receive $50.00 if he has no dependents; $60.00 if he has one dependent, and $80.00 if he has more than one dependent.

Q—My daughter married a World War II veteran, who was killed in action. They had one son. My daughter has now remarried. Will my grandson be eligible to attend a college under the War Orphans Act since his mother has remarried?

A—I can find no place in the law concerning the War Orphans Act which states that the remarriage of the mother will make the children ineligible for education benefits.

Q—I am stationed at the Lockbourne Army Air Base. My wife is very sick, and I would like to send her to a private hospital. Can I do this at Government expense?

A—You certainly can. You can send her to almost any hospital you desire, you must pay the first $25.00 towards the hospital bill, the Government will pay the balance.

Q—I am receiving 60 per cent service-connected disability compensation, and receiving additional money for a dependent wife and two children. Under the new law just passed by Congress, how much money will I get each month?

A—You will get $120.00 for your service connected disability compensation, you will also get $30.00 per month for your wife and two children. Total of $150.00 per month.

U.S. Half-Year Crime Total Hits Record, FBI Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Based on figures for the first six months, the United States is headed for another record number of crimes this year.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover estimated Wednesday that 1,399,670 major crimes were committed through June 30, or one for each 122 persons in the nation.

The figure was 8.4 per cent above that for the first six months of 1956, and 24.4 per cent over the average for the previous five years.

His report was based on data throughout the country.

500 Weekly Seek TV Loot

All They Must Do Is To Say 'I Do'

NEW YORK (AP)—Pat Greene has one of the easiest—yet toughest—tasks on television.

Every week she reads 500 or more letters, and picks the couples who later find themselves suddenly saying "I do" before the cameras of "Bride and Groom," one of the air's sturdiest staples, which is now celebrating its 10th year via NBC-TV each weekday afternoon.

The program recently launched its 2,400th couple on the sea of matrimony with the usual jackpot of household chattels worth about $2,500.

"That seems to be a main reason for wanting to get married on the air," says Mrs. Greene. "Couples feel it is a wonderful start in life free of the installment plan."

"Another reason they give is that they have relatives scattered all over and they can attend through television."

She scrupulously avoids any hint of off-beat romance and enforces such requirements as that neither partner ever has been divorced. The program proudly proclaims that a survey showed marriages made on television have only one-tenth the average divorce rate.

One of the surprises of Mrs. Greene's work is the consistency with which one household item is asked by the brides.

"More than anything else they ask for sewing machines," Pat reports. "I don't know where the career girl has gone."

Drive-in Freeloaders

USS Constellation Wins Loud Music Battle in Port

BALTIMORE (AP)—The 160-year-old USS Constellation, the nation's oldest fighting ship still afloat, won a skirmish with a Liberian freighter in Baltimore Harbor Wednesday night.

Hostilities began a week ago when "Greek and Chinese music" roared from the freighter's loud-speaker system to entertain its crew.

Donald Stewart, Constellation caretaker, couldn't sleep Wednesday night he responded to the music with 16-gun broadsides — on record, of course. Stewart kept his

U.S. Inflation Picture Shows Opposing Sides

Rising Living Costs
Being Accompanied
By Hike in Incomes

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The two sides in the inflation picture show clearly today in figures released as the autumn season gets under way.

One side is the rising cost of living which pinches everyone. The other side is rising farm income, increasing dollar return for many manufacturers of nondurable goods, for many services, for many workers.

In the contest on the inflation playing field today's lineups include: The heavier factory pay check vs. the bigger family bills; higher farm prices vs. higher farm costs; rising housing and home maintenance costs vs. rising operating costs of builders and utilities; declining industrial material prices vs. rising prices of end products; still rising consumer spending vs. the leveling off of business spending for capital goods and for inventories.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that for the 12th straight month the cost of living has risen. It's at a record high, in case you hadn't noticed. But the BLS at the same time reports a longer factory work week added 33 cents in August to the weekly after tax pay check of factory workers, on average, putting earnings 3 per cent above a year ago. Consumer prices, however, are 3.6 per cent above last year. Under the rules of inflation, you rarely win.

Housing costs, including gas rates, higher interest on mortgages, rose — but so did the operating costs of builders and utilities.

While the prices at the grocery were climbing to a record level 117.9 per cent above the 1947-49 average, the Agriculture Department reports that farm income is rising, too.

This time last year it was running at an annual rate just above 12 billion dollars. The department believes it is now about 500 million dollars higher than that. Climbing prices for many products of the farms and ranches, coupled with near-record output, is doing the trick.

The department says that farm

Beef and pork will appear on many dining tables Sunday, judging from specials to be offered by supermarkets this weekend.

Sirloin is a bit cheaper in scattered areas, which accounts for offerings of steaks, while other beef cuts are mostly unchanged. Pork chops are from one to six cents lower, several months ahead of price decreases expected for pork this fall.

Supplies of pork are expected to be close to 1956 levels during the fall, then spurt ahead of last year's figures in the final weeks of the year.

Many stores also will feature turkeys and chickens.

Cabbage, cauliflower, onions, peppers, endive, escarole, radishes, collards, kale and potatoes are so plentiful the Agriculture Department says it's thinking of restricting imports to this country.

Good buys also can be spotted among beans, carrots, celery, cucumbers, eggplant, nearby lettuce, spinach, squash and sweet potatoes.

Apples generally are rated a good buy, along with prunes, and California's seedless grapes. The nation's apple crop, incidentally, is expected to run 15 per cent larger than last year, largest since 1950.

Mental Aide Selected

COLUMBUS (AP) — Dr. Robert C. Anderson, 51, of Topeka, Kan., has been appointed assistant commissioner in the State Division of Mental Hygiene.

costs are also above those of last year. The farmer, however, like the factory worker, has at least a temporary gain in that income outstripped costs in the most recent sprint.

The cross play of inflation always brings up losers (notably those living on pensions or other fixed income) and at least temporary winners.

So far the consumers haven't taken to the sidelines. The Department of Commerce calls the still rising volume of consumer spending as the most important plus factor in the economy now, when so many other factors are either shaky or dubious.

Retail spending in August was a record 17.4 billion dollars, compared with 16 billion the year before.

Daylight Time Due To End In Many U. S. Areas Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Daylight Saving Time ends in some sections of the nation at 2 a.m. Sunday, but many other areas will keep fast time another month.
In a few places the closing date for Daylight Time came earlier, and most of the South and West had no Daylight Time this summer.
In still other areas, Daylight Time is officially or unofficially a year 'round affair—a movement that seems to be spreading, but slowly.
Clocks are to be turned back an hour this Sunday in all of California, Nevada, Wisconsin and Minnesota; most of the northeastern Ohio communities which adopted Daylight Saving Time; about 385 communities in Illinois, not including the Chicago area; two counties on the eastern shore of Maryland; many communities in Indiana; and about half of Pennsylvania communities.
New England, New York, New

Jersey, Delaware, the District of Columbia and its suburbs; most of the South and West will stay on fast time until Oct. 27, while Fort of Maryland, half of Pennsylvania, including Philadelphia and Pittsburgh; and a number of scattered areas, including Chicago, St. Louis and Louisville, will remain on Daylight Time until Oct. 27.
Year 'round Daylight Time continues in 15 central Kentucky cities, including Lexington and Frankfort. In Indiana a number of communities near Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as Fort Wayne, Ind., will continue unofficially on "Eastern Standard Time," which has the same effect as Daylight Time in these Central Time Zone areas. The reason it's unofficial is a new state law requiring Daylight Time statewide but specifying that it end the last Sunday in September.
INDIANA — State law provides Daylight Time ending Sept. 29, but some northern cities, Hammond, Elkhart and Louisville sub-

Wayne and the southeastern communities near Cincinnati will stay on "Eastern Standard" all year.
KENTUCKY—Lexington, Frankfort and 13 other central Kentucky cities will keep Daylight Time indefinitely; Louisville, which had considered doing the same, has not decided and will end Daylight Time Oct. 27 this year.
OHIO — All Daylight Time in northeastern part of state. Most communities, including Greater Cleveland area, returning to standard Sept. 29. Ending it Oct. 27 will be Cadiz, East Liverpool, Garrettsville, Girard, Hudson, Martins Ferry, Massillon, Orrville, Steubenville, Toronto and Vermilion. Columbus voted down Daylight Saving Time May 7 and other central Ohio communities which had approved Daylight Time contingent on Columbus' action also remained on Standard.
PENNSYLVANIA—Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and about half the other communities in the state will end Daylight Time Oct. 27; the other half are ending it Sept. 29.
WEST VIRGINIA — Charleston, South Charleston, Morgantown and Beckley return to Standard time Sept. 29. Northern Panhandle cities Weirton, Wheeling and Moundsville remain on it until Oct. 27. Other areas remained on Standard Time.

Thunder Birds Grow Common At Alpena Air Guard Base

ALPENA, Mich. — Thunder birds may become as famous at Alpena as its Thunder Bay.
The birds are jet airplanes, of course. Each summer they flock to this Lake Huron community on Thunder Bay from Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, as well as Michigan.
Phelps Collins Air Base is a field two miles square located seven miles west of Alpena and it pours an estimated half million dollars into the area's economy each summer.
It is one of nine such Air National Guard training bases in the United States.
Improvements, including permanent buildings and drives and 160 pieces of rolling equipment, represent a National Guard investment of around six million dollars since air training was shifted to Alpena from Grayling in October, 1953.
Air National Guard units from Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio come here each summer for two weeks of training—that gives a total of 10 weeks of intense activity. Then between winter's snows many come back for weekend missions over the Phelps Collins range in Lake Huron.
The airport serves Alpena civilian fliers and airliners, as well as the Air National Guard. An estimated 72,000 military takeoffs and landings are made annually at Phelps Collins, and between June and September this year there were 2,435 civilian takeoffs and landings.

The field's main, north-south runway is paved 8,000 feet and has an additional 1,000 feet unpaved but usable, at either end. Its two diagonal runways are 5,000 feet long.
The airport's base is the best natural one to be found—sand. It has taken giant C124 Globemasters and flying boxcars. The field has its own intra-base telephone system, and can store a million gallons of fuel.
There are 62 concrete block barracks capable of sleeping 40 men each and a 2,000-man mess, plus machine shops, oxygen manufacturing machines, photo laboratories and enough miscellaneous equipment to support an entire Air National Guard wing of 2,000 men at one time.
The government has a 55-year lease on Phelps Collins and its continuing investments indicate it is here to stay.
Phelps Collins, which became an airfield with a thousand feet of runway in 1930 and was a fighter base in World War II, is named for a native Alpena airman who was killed in aerial combat in World War I.
As an Air National Guard base since 1953, it has had only three fliers killed in a total of nine accidents.

30 Idaho School Boys End Strike

TWIN FALLS, Idaho — Thirty high school boys have ended their three-day strike against school officials in a dispute over absenteeism.
Negotiations for three days resulted in the students agreeing to return to their tasks and school authorities agreeing that the three days of freedom would count only as one day of absence.
The dispute flared when school officials said there would be no more official excuses for deer and elk hunting trips.

Girl, 6, in Hospital With Serious Burns

COLUMBUS — Shirley Ann Buehl, 6, Columbus, is reported in fair condition at Children's Hospital here today with burns on her body, waist, neck and chest. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Reed said Shirley Ann was burned when her dress ignited as she prepared to go to school Wednesday. Shirley Ann either was trying to light the oven, or "just playing with matches," Mrs. Reed said.

Body of Woman, 50, Discovered in River

DELAWARE — The body of Mrs. Betty Stratton, 50, of nearby Kilbourne, was found in the Olen-tangy River near here Wednesday. The coroner's office said she apparently died of drowning. Her body was found by Frank G. Richards of Shaker Heights, a student at Ohio Wesleyan University, who told officers he discovered it while walking along the river bank.

Satellite Brain Crammed With Knowledge for Trip

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

MADISON, Wis. — "Cramming" at the University of Wisconsin here usually has to do with students stuffing knowledge into their heads so they can pass examinations, but to a team of scientists it now means cramming everything they can into the relatively tiny electronic brain of the earth satellite so that it can pass its final tests soon after launching at the climax of the International Geophysical Year.

There are so many errie parallels between instructing flesh and blood undergraduates and "teaching" the metallic earth satellite that the scientist-teachers sometimes get a creepy feeling.

Out of them explains that in the university's regular "business" of education, there always is tremendous competition for the students' time. Classwork is acknowledged to be the most important thing, but there is also football, extracurricular activity, social affairs, and so on.

"When we get going too hard on the intellectual side, we are reminded of the 'whole student,' and it is the same with the satellite's brain; they remind us continually that we have to keep in mind the requirements of the huge rocket and launching machinery."

This means that while most accounts of the satellite project accent its bigness — the three-stage, 72-foot, finless rocket weighs more than 22,000 pounds—Dr. Verner E. Suomi and his associates are making all their triumphs with a $50,000 grant from the National Science foundation at the opposite end of the scale, through smallness and "miniaturization."

THAT IS BECAUSE after the great rocket is launched at 4,000 miles per hour; soars 36 miles into the atmosphere and sheds its first stage; goes on up to 130 miles at 11,000 mph, followed by a third stage at 300 miles and 18,000 mph, it finally will shell out the true satellite, a gleaming ball only 20 inches in diameter and weighing only 20 pounds.

The "memory" for the miraculous brain to be stored inside is

The brain of the earth satellite will be just as "smart" as this vital part being held by its creator, Dr. Harry Miller of the University of Wisconsin. Its "memory" will be a tiny recorder, and the entire brain will weigh only 20 pounds, compared with 22,000 pounds for rocket and all at launching late in the current International Geophysical Year.

being built here by Dr. Suomi and Dr. Harry Miller. Anyone with a photograph or tape recorder can appreciate the wonders of this device which will record 110 precious minutes farther out in space than a man-made object ever before has penetrated.

The midjet recorder, mad with lightweight magnesium and weighing less than a pound, will hold six feet of stainless steel tape one thousandth of an inch thick. It is expected to "memorize" 10,000 bits of information concerning such things as the temperature up there, the bombardment of radioactive "fallout" from the sun upon the earth, and denseness of the atmosphere.

In receiving stations along the 75th meridian stretching from Washington, D. C., south to Santiago, Chile, scientists will listen more intently to the recitation of the mechanical brain than they ever have to the final oral examination answers of a candidate for a doctor's degree.

The satellite brain will answer its final examination questions in a recorded message which will be played back in five compressed seconds, and unscrambled later. Then it will perish.

Protected from external temperatures ranging from 100 F. to 60 below zero by a "skull" of magnesium 1-33 inch thick, layered with chromium, silicon monoxide, aluminum, and a gleaming outer coat of .00005 inch gold leaf, the brain will "think" at its most efficient temperatures of 40-70 degrees.

The "brain's" counterpart of a human's "grey matter" is a plastic called "Kel F." A "counting chain of 10 flip-flaps capable of counting up to 1,024," constitutes the "learning device," and the tiny recorder is the memory.

MOST MIRACULOUS of all are the "thermistors," however, no bigger than a speck of dust mounted on a wire thinner than a human hair at the end of the satellite's antenna, because it observes for the mechanical brain in the way eyes, ears, and tongue transmit to the human brain along nerve fibers.

As sensory organs they may open the way to building the first really knowledgeable robot, the scientists conjecture. That is, if they can make the electronic brain "smart enough."

Scalding Paper Pulp Cauldron Kills Workman

CINCINNATI (AP)—Donald Brummitt, 22, fell to his death in a scalding cauldron of paper pulp at the Fox Paper Co. in suburban Lockland Wednesday night. Police recovered the body at midnight after waiting until the sludge had cooled sufficiently to permit entry into the 25-foot square, 12-foot deep pit.

There were no witnesses, Lockland police reported. Brummitt was last seen at work shortly before 10 p. m. and his fate was hinted when planking of the pit was found disarranged as if he had slipped off, police said.

Paper pulp in the cauldron is beaten by huge revolving blades, at the same time being heated by boiling water and steam.

Derby

An interesting meeting of Derby Methodist Church W.S.C.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Daryl Furniss Wednesday afternoon of last week. Around twenty members were present besides a number of children. Mrs. Jane Vance, the newly elected president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Ellnor Brown had charge of devotional period and Mrs. Ellen Bliss had the book review. During the business session a committee was appointed to see about the purchase of a new carpet for the church, and report at the October meeting. Mrs. David Cox is chairman of October group. Meeting adjourned after which the group served refreshments.

Miss Betty Mason and Mr. Ora McWhorter were united in marriage by Rev. John Brown at Derby Methodist Church last Friday evening. After the wedding the newly-weds were given an old-fashioned belling. For the time being Mr. and Mrs. McWhorter will reside at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Amanda Mason, who lives here.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Redman and children of Reynoldsburg and Miss Mary Bauhan were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Lizzie Edwards. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Redman and Mrs. Edwards attended the Golden Wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham of Orient. Quite a few other friends and relatives from here also attended the reception.

Mrs. Ilo Creamer, Mrs. Elma Eaken and Miss Sadie Clendennen attended the W.C.T.U. Pickaway County Convention at Salem Church Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Edna Meuser of Columbus was a Sunday guest of her father, Charles McKinley.

The first children's home in the world was started in 1867 at Marietta, Ohio, by Catherine Fay.

Tigers Shifted For Wilmington

Circleville's grid Tigers got in several good practices this week in preparation for tomorrow night's South Central Ohio League opener at Wilmington.

According to Coaches Tom Bennett and Dick Boyd several changes probably will appear in Circleville's starting lineup. The changes were made earlier this week.

One of the changes will see regular end Larry Hannahs operating from the fullback slot. Regular fullback Dick Bircher will move to the left half slot to make room for the hard-running sophomore.

Hannah's end post probably will be filled by Bill Johnson, a letter winner at that position last year. Hannah's running ability and Johnson's improved play at end, plus injuries to halfback Ray Phifer prompted the move.

probably will remain the same as in the last two games. Jon Parcher will be at the other end, Terry Barthelmas and Bill Perkins will be the tackles, Asa E'sea and Bob Barnhart the guards, and Roger Wolfe or Fred Sines at center. The remainder of the backfield will see Mike Hosler at quarterback and Walt Arledge at right half.

The Tigers will be looking for their first win of the season and their first touchdown. They dropped the season opener to Athens, 19-0, and the second contest to Chillicothe, 12-0.

Wilmington on the other hand has won one and lost one. The Hurricanes defeated Franklin 35-12 in the first game of the season, but lost, 13-6, to Lebanon last week.

Last year the Tigers battled the Hurricanes to a 6-6 deadlock on the local gridiron. The Wilmington gridders went on to capture the league pennant.

The Hurricanes reportedly rely mostly on a ground game, specializing in off-tackle thrusts. Their aerial game appears weak with a record of only four completions in 24 attempts.

Wilmington's ground attack is centered around the hard running of left half Sonnie Fields and right half Mickey Vancoy. Fields proved to be a thorn in the Tigers' side last year, scoring the Hurricanes' only touchdown on a 55-yard dash to paydirt.

Here is Wilmington's probable starting lineup: Smith and Vancoy, ends; Sommers and Downey or Reed, tackles; Bashore and Dennis, guards; Bias, center; Barnes, quarterback; Fields and Vancoy, halfbacks; Witte, fullback.

Los Angeles Sends Dodgers New Pact

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A proposed agreement covering transfer of the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles has been revised a fourth time and sent to Walter O'Malley, president of the National League baseball club.

Details of the proposal were expected to be presented today to the Los Angeles City Council, which must adopt the agreement in the form of an ordinance before the deal can become final.

Unless he is given an extension by other members of the National League, O'Malley must decide by next Monday whether he is going to move. Final council action on the deal is not expected until the week after next.

Ugly Mug Is Beauty In Lebanon Payoff

LEBANON (AP)—Ugly Mug, a 5-year-old brown gelding, was a beautiful horse to those who had him Wednesday night when, in running his own fastest mile, he won the eighth race to pay his backers $62.40, one of the season's top prizes at Lebanon Raceway.

Ugly Mug went the mile in 2:08.4-5, with Bob Brown of Troy at the reins. He is owned by Jack L. Smith of Waynesfield.

During Coach Joe Lapchick's two tenures as basketball mentor at St. John's University the Brooklyn school has won 195 games and lost 62.

Chicago Bear End Seeks End of Jinx

CHICAGO (AP)—End Harlon Hill, the Chicago Bears' star passer, will try to break the Green Bay jinx Sunday.

Hill would like nothing better than to score the first touchdown in the Packers' new Green Bay Civic Stadium when the two rival clubs open their National Football League season before a sell-out 32,250 fans.

Hill has scored in every NFL city but Green Bay. "I can't figure it out," said the all-league end who has made 32 touchdowns in 36 games over a three-year span. This scoring pace even exceeds that of Green Bay's all-time great, Don Hutson, who totaled 101 TDs in 11 seasons.

Braves Sport Tough Infield

Inner Circle Tagged As Heavy Hit Crew

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Adcock, Red Schoendienst, Johnny Logan and Eddie Mathews represent the hardest hitting infield in the major leagues.

Only first baseman Adcock, among these four, is rated less than a superior fielder. And he likely will be replaced by Frank Torre, a defensive standout, when the occasion demands.

For these reasons, the Milwaukee Braves' infield rates a decided edge over the New York Yankees in the World Series which opens next Wednesday.

The Yankees' infield picture is far from clear. The big question is whether first baseman Bill Skowron, a .304 righthanded batter with good power, will be able to play.

Manager Casey Stengel would like to have Skowron in the lineup, but he has been sidelined since Sept. 13 with a sacroiliac condition.

Should Skowron be unavailable Stengel's infield for the opener probably will shape up this way: first base—Harry Simpson; second base—Bobby Richardson or Gerry Coleman; shortstop—Gil McDougald; third base—Andy Carey. Carey likely will be replaced by Jerry Lumpe against Milwaukee righthanded pitchers Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl.

The home run figures of the infielders are most revealing. The Milwaukee regulars have accounted for 69.

For the Yanks the infielders have hit 37. Only at shortstop, where McDougald gets the nod over Logan, do the Yankee infielders compare favorably with Milwaukee's. Gil is batting .290 to Logan's .277 and the New York star is just a bit better defensively.

Let's look at the other infield positions:

Second base: Schoendienst over Richardson or Coeiman. With a batting average of .311, the red-head probably will be the only major leaguer to reach the 200-hit mark this season. Richardson and Coleman are much weaker batters.

First base: Adcock over Skowron or Simpson. The Milwaukee slugger hits a longer ball than either of the Yanks. He's a bet ter shape than Skowron and superior all around to Simpson.

Third base: Mathews over Carey or Lumpe. Eddie, in addition to his lefty hitting, is an underrated fielder.

Tony Kubek, the Yankees' brilliant rookie, should see infield action in the late innings. He probably will be Stengel's starter in left field, where he's played most often in recent weeks.

Series Mound Starters Flunk In Warmups

Both Lose Wednesday In Contests Near End Of Regular Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Right-hander Bob Buhl and southpaw Whitey Ford, both spotted for starting jobs in next week's World Series, hardly looked the part in closing warmups for the championship playoff. Buhl, who had won nine in a row, was rapped for six hits and four runs in the eighth as the St. Louis Cardinals nailed second place with a 4-1 victory over the National League champion Milwaukee Braves Wednesday.

Ford picked to open the series Wednesday for the New York Yankees, was tagged for four singles and two runs in the nightcap ninth as the American League champs split a two-night pair with Baltimore, winning 5-1, then losing 4-2.

While Ford and Buhl were finding things tough, however, Stan (The Man) Musial and Ted Williams zeroed in on the major league batting crowns. Musial, whose pinch single scored the tying run for the Cards, gained two points for a .351 average. Willie Mays of the New York Giants, Musial's closest challenger in his bid for a seventh title, was idle and stayed at .333.

Williams was 2-for-3 in Boston's 7-6, 11-inning victory at Washington, and picked up two points for a .386 average. Yankee Mickey Mantle, next at .365, didn't play, resting his china legs for the series.

In the other NL game, scheduled Chicago's Cubs junked Cincinnati's hopes for a share of third with a 7-5 victory over the Redlegs.

In the AL, it was Detroit 5, Chicago 0, with Billy Hoelt blanking the White Sox on five hits; and Cleveland 9, Kansas City 7, with the two clubs cracking 10 home runs, one shy of the major league record.

Buhl walked three, struck out two and had a two-hit shutout for seven. Eddie Kasko's two-run single was the clincher in the eighth as Lindy McDaniel, with Lloyd Merritt's two-inning relief mopup, won his 15th.

McDaniel, cracking Milwaukee's winning streak at eight games, gave up five of the Braves' seven hits, and cut Hank Aaron's RBI string at eight games although Hammerin' Henry pushed his hit streak to 10 with 2-for-4.

Billy Gardner's bases-loaded single broke it up for the Orioles. Ford walked six and gave up eight hits, four by rookie Brooks Robinson, while going the distance.

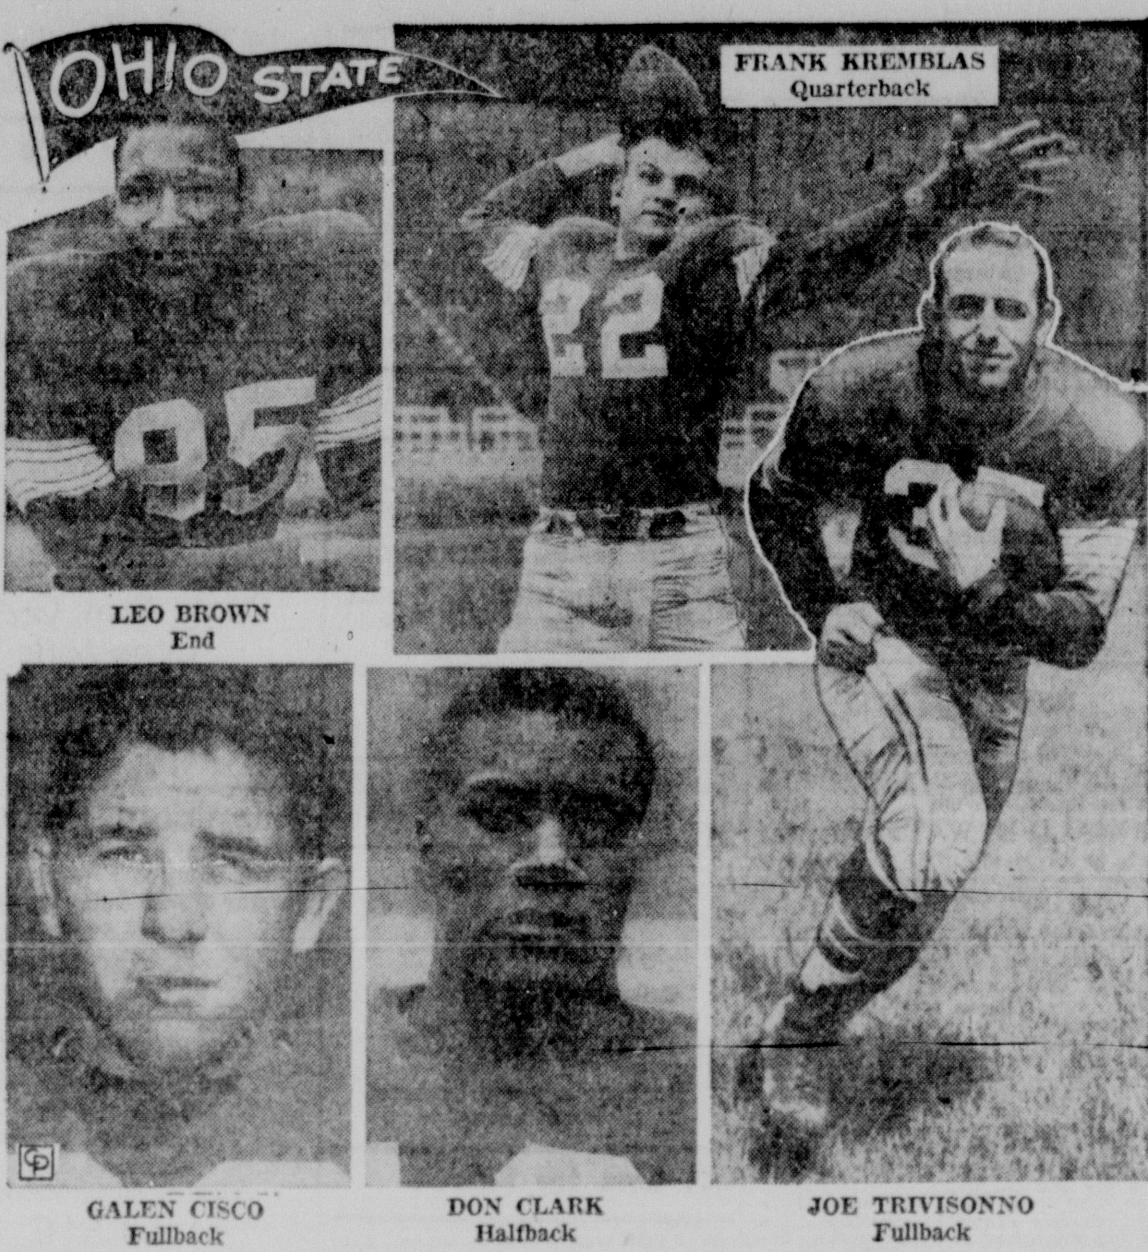

Rookie Billy O'Dell beat the Yankees for the first time, gaining a 4-10 record with a six-hitter. Billy Loes relieved in the ninth and nailed it on a double play to pinch hitter Yogi Berra — whose two-run 24th homer triggered the first-game victory over Connie Johnson (14-11). Don Larsen won his 10th.

The Red Sox had homers from Frank Malzone, who smacked a pair, Jim Piersall and Jackie Jensen. Malzone's second broke it up in the 11th.

Hoelt, who won 20 a year ago, gained a 9-11 record with his first shutout since July 29, 1956, while the Tigers handed rookie Jim Derdington a loss in his first decision.

The Tribe hammered six home runs, with Vic Wertz tagging a pair of two-run shots in the eighth and ninth that nailed it for Hoyt Wilhelm.

The Cubs bounced Jay Hook, a $65,000 bonus kid making his first start for Cincinnati, in a six-run third. Rookie Moe Drabowsky won his 12th.

Demon Ready For Big Race

Steamin' Demon, owned by George Van Camp, is one of 10 horses entered in the $40,000 Transamerica harness racing final at Roosevelt Raceway, New York, Friday night.

Flaming Arrow, owned by William G. Vallery, Waverly, also is entered in the event.

Browns To Find Little Change in Giant '11

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Browns, sprinkled with rookies, will find that the New York Giants team they meet in the season opener here Sunday is virtually the same team that won the National Football League crown last year.

The Browns, who beat the Giants 24-7 in one game last year while losing 21-9 in the other, are five-point underdogs for Sunday.

CHARLIE CALDWELL, Princeton University's head football coach, has been granted a medical leave of absence for this season. The leave was granted so that Caldwell could recover fully from what was termed a "lingering infection" for which he was hospitalized during the summer. (International)

German Boxer Fails To Top Canadian

DETROIT — German heavy-weight Willi Besmanoff says he is sure of two things after losing a unanimous decision to Yvon Durelle: that he must learn more about the way boxing matches are scored in this country and that Durelle would not last five rounds with Archie Moore.

The Canadian's 10-round victory Wednesday night did little to enhance his chances for a title match against Moore.

"I made him miss all night and I outboxed him," said Besmanoff, who lost his third bout in five tries since beginning his American campaign early this year. "But that is not enough in this country, I guess. In Europe, the better boxer gets the points."

Felix Chlocca, Venezuelan lightweight boxer, won 81 of 87 amateur bouts before turning professional. He is 23.

Calumet Farm set a new record at Hialeah last winter with $247,375 in purses. Calumet had set the previous high of $173,675 at the Florida track in 1956.

Hoyt Wilhelm Wins Initial Indian Start

KANSAS CITY — Hoyt Wilhelm made his debut with the Cleveland Indians Wednesday night, and was credited with the victory in a 9-7 slugfest with the Kansas City Athletics.

The Indians hit six home runs and the A's four, one short of the major league record for homers by both teams in one game.

Wilhelm, a 34-year-old right-handed knuckleballer acquired on waivers from the St. Louis Cardinals, came on in the eighth inning with the score tied at 6-6.

He retired three batters in the eighth and two in the ninth, before he gave up a home run to Vic Power and hit Joe Demaestri with a pitch. Wilhelm then got Gus Zernial to hit into a force play to end the game.

The Indians scored three runs in the top of the ninth on a two-run homer by Vic Wertz, his second of the game, and a solo homer by Rocky Colavito.

Dick Williams, Roger Maris and Dick Brown also homered for the Indians. For the A's, Woody Held hit two homers, and Billy Martin and Power one each.

Cleveland starter Ray Narleski was chased in the fifth inning. He was followed by Dick Tomaneck, Vito Valentini and Wilhelm.

Early Wynn hopes to be sufficiently recovered from the gout to start for the Indians tonight.

The victory moved the Indians into a fifth place tie with Baltimore. Despite the loss, the A's clinched a tie for seventh place, because Washington lost.

Bucks Cautioned Against Rough Play

COLUMBUS — Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes is doing everything he can to have a full roster of able-bodied men on hand for the Buckeyes' football opener against Texas Christian University here Saturday.

He gave the team specific orders at practice Wednesday to avoid roughing it up. The result was a light-duty session and today's session, the OSU coach said, will be even lighter.

Almost all of Wednesday's practice emphasized defense. The Bucks continued to work out defense against plays that Texas Christian is likely to use.

Delayed by Snake

PENSACOLA, Fla. — Bo Mitchell, commercial manager of radio station WBSR, was three hours late to work and here's why:

When he started to get into his automobile a three-foot blacksnake was curled up on the seat. Before he could eject it, the reptile disappeared under the dashboard.

igorous applications of a hoe, smoke from burning rags and fumes from the exhaust all failed to dislodge the snake. Mitchell finally sent for a can of cyanide gas, removed and the slightly dazed snake was found and quickly dispatched.

Redleg Bonus Hurler Fails To Curb Cubs

CINCINNATI — Jay Hook, the Cincinnati Redleg 20-year-old $65,000 bonus hurler from Northwestern University, must wait another day, perhaps another season, to record his first major league victory.

The Chicago Cubs saw to that Wednesday night when, in closing out Crosley Field for the year with a 7-5 victory, they knocked Hook from the box two-thirds of the way through the third inning. Five of six runs had scored.

Claude Osteen, just 18 and himself a minor-bonus acquisition, succeeded Hook, and promptly wild-pitched home the sixth tally, walked a man but ended matters by striking out Ernie Banks, the 12th man to come to the plate. The Cubs broke the scoring ice in 1 second.

Osteen allowed one hit during two and one-third innings, then gave way to Dave Skaugstad, 17-year-old high school star from Compton, Calif. Skaugstad, making his first appearance under big league fire, allowed three hits the rest of the distance.

Typical, perhaps of the "extremes of youth," the three Cincinnati youngsters walked 10 and struck out 8. Skaugstad added a second wild pitch to the record.

Moe Drabowsky, the Cubs' own 22-year-old bonus baby, racked up his 12th win of the year, even though Don Elston had to save the game for him in the ninth.

Seeing Mighty Missile Die Said Thrilling Experience

By GENE PLOWDEN
MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—Yesterday I watched a missile die. It was a thrilling and sobering experience.

It started Sunday when heard, via grapevine, that a big missile was to be fired from this supersecret military base midway between Miami and Jacksonville. Rumor said this was to be the Atlas.

That's the Air Force's name for our intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM). We had stood on this same beach, in almost the identical spot, June 11 watched while our first ICBM, riding upward on a tail of fire, wobbled and exploded like a million firecrackers.

Now we were back again, three months and 14 days later, to see what improvements, if any, had been made. In the meantime, the Russians said they had developed such a missile.

The Atlas, we had read, was designed to travel 15,000 miles an hour, reach an altitude of 600 miles and hurtle down on the enemy at a speed 40 times faster than sound.

The June edition of the Atlas had climbed only about 6,000 feet. We hoped—and expected—this one would do far better.

Since Monday, when newsmen took up the vigil from dawn to dark, word had spread up and down this booming peninsula and by firing time 50 or more newsmen, bathers, bird watchers and even a traveling evangelist swarmed to the beach.

At 2:58 p.m. the monster with the cone-shaped head started to rise; slowly, it seemed at first, but it was rising and gaining speed. A bouquet of flame hung beneath it. Up, up it went for perhaps a mile, then what appeared to be two spent rockets fell away.

Atlas moved upward a bit more, then faltered like an old man climbing stairs, shuddered and burst into a great mass of red, yellow and orange-colored flame.

As the skelton plunged toward the sea, nature mercifully provided a cover of clouds to hide its death throes.

The Defense Department confirmed a missile had been fired but would say no more. Authoritative sources said it was the Atlas.

Hours later Wilfred J. McNeil, assistant secretary of defense and the department's comptroller, said the cost of developing usable ballistic missiles "will be a good deal more than double the cost of developing the first atomic bomb."

That was about two billion dollars. Atlas firings in June and September lasted less than five minutes but each was an awesome display of fire and potential destruction and may well mark the birth of one of our chief weapons of warfare.

Minnesota Veterans Eligible For Korean War Bonus Now

Pickaway County Korean veterans who were residents of Minnesota when they entered the service are now eligible to apply for a Minnesota Korean War Bonus, according to Jim Shea, county veterans service officer.

Veterans must have served between June 27, 1950 and July 27, 1953 and must have been a Minnesota resident for one year prior to service entry.

Korean Service Medal veterans will receive $15 for each month of overseas service and $7.50 for each month of domestic service.

All other eligible veterans will receive $7.50 for each month of service, overseas or domestic. Maximum for those entitled to the Korean Service Medal is $400.

Damages Awarded To Boy Baseballer Whose Team Lost

DETROIT (AP)—Damages have been awarded to 11-year-old Eugene W. Bader, whose home run in a sandlot baseball game was spoiled because a cocker spaniel bit his leg.

The boy sought $3,000 in damages from the dog's owner, Carmen Karmey, but the award was trimmed to $250 in a judgment handed down by Common Pleas Judge David C. Vokes.

Eugene testified that Karmey's daughter Celeste, 12, was rooting for the other team and kicked the dog on him as he was running between second and third base. The boy said he would have scored a homer except for the bite.

Eugene's team lost.

Tractor Somersaults, Killing Farmer, 67

EAST LIVERPOOL (AP)—The body of Anderson Pugh, 67, was found beside his tractor on his farm at nearby Calcutta.

Columbiana County Coroner Ernest Sturges said Pugh had suffered internal injuries and a skull fracture. He added there were indications that the tractor overturned on him, but made a complete somersault and landed on its wheels.

Maximum for other veterans is $200.

THE BONUS payments will begin in January, 1959, according to law passed at the 1957 session of the Minnesota state legislature.

Area veterans who are eligible for the bonus may obtain application blanks at Jim Shea's courthouse office or by writing to Lyle E. Kinvig, Commissioner of Veterans Affairs, Korean Bonus Division, Veterans Service Building, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

County Treasurer Resigns in Probe

BRYAN (AP)—Williams County Treasurer Garland A. Beck resigned Wednesday after State Examiner David Butler said a routine check revealed a $4,034 shortage in county cash.

No charges were filed, but Prosecutor William Weaver said he would present the facts to the grand jury this week. Beck denied any knowledge of the shortage.
